PACKAGING

POWDER MANUFACTURING

We believe packaging is equally critical to manufacturing as it protects and preserves the integrity of the product along the supply chain from the facility to consumer.

We offer a broad packaging portfolio and have the expertise in supporting you with design, labeling and packaging solution services to enhance product compliance and consumer attractiveness.

We know that label and package design is much more than a simple aesthetic-based decision. Rather it is an important threefold interaction for the supplement customer that includes a visual, tactile and information-based experience. Compliance is critical, and at Makers Nutrition our team is highly knowledgeable and up-to-date regarding all of the latest FSSAI labeling regulations for dietary supplements guidelines. This includes typography and font sizes, minimum required information, prioritization of information, directions and warnings and ingredient formatting.

Our talented graphic artists are dedicated to working with you in creating eye-catching customized labels and logos that best suit your needs. We can help you create a logo that will make your brand stand out among the other supplements on the shelf. Our art department can also expertly create an effective label or you.

Our USP is comprehensive manufacturing facility and capability of manufacturing more than 450 different types of formulations in large as well as small size batches.

OUR PRODUCT RANGE

PHARMACEUTICAL PRODUCTS:

TABLETS

Medglobe's primary capability is tablet manufacturing. We provide this service through a complex and diverse range of latest technologies and internal process based skill sets.

Our current tablet manufacturing operations have good capacity to provide tablets in various formats including a vast range of film coated, un-coated, Chewable and Dispersible Tablets.

CAPSULES

One of Medglobe's support capabilities includes the filling and processing of Hard Gelatine Capsules across a wide range of sizes and product profiles.

OUR PRODUCT RANGE

SYRUP

Medglobe has the capability and capacity to formulate and produce a vast range of liquid products in a range of batch sizes and fill volume requirements.

Our liquid capability includes multiple integrated filling and packing lines to provide finished products in a range of presentations including various sizes of PET, HDPE and amber glass bottles with or without nitrogen blanketing as well as low volume single shots formats.

In addition, we have the capability to process a variety of dosing methods including droppers and measuring caps as well as tamper evident solutions such as PP Caps and shrink sleeves. The products list covers an extensive list of antibiotics, analgesics, multivitamins, antihistamines etc.

DRY SYRUP

Our range of dry syrups is provided to our clients using mild chemical formulations and is appropriately concentrated. These medicines are apt for any kind of child or infant ailments and do not hamper any kind of general health concerning the little ones. Our company has modern and advanced manufacturing units that are filled with advanced machinery and devices.

NUTRACEUTICAL PRODUCTS

At MEDGLOBE, we offer the most popular, state-of-the-art supplement formats for our clients to choose from including capsules, softgels, tablets, powders and gummies. What's more, we strive to customize color and flavor options so that your product will stand out in the market place. All of our experts at Makers Nutrition are here to guide you through making the best format decisions to enhance the competitive edge of your product.

CAPSULE MANUFACTURING

We offer several, affordable premium capsule formats for you to choose from including colored, veggie and imprinted. Our staff can help guide you on customizing the right size, appearance and encapsulation to help capture your product's uniqueness. For instance, colors can be matched to your brand, and capsules can be personalized with text.

SOFTGEL MANUFACTURING

Many consumers favor softgels for their smooth, easy-to-swallow texture. One of the advantages of softgels is that they hold nutritional formulas in liquid form. In most normal cases, the soft gel allows for better nutritional absorption than tablets or hard-shell capsules. Soft gels are also prized for having a long product shelf life.

TABLET MANUFACTURING

At Makers Nutrition we produce all types of tablets including raw, coated, sublingual, chewable and time-release. With control over the size, shape, color, glaze and tablet layering, we can customize all of your tablet needs, using state-of-the-art next-generation press and coating machines.

NUTRACEUTICAL PRODUCTS

POWDER MANUFACTURING

A successful powder supplement needs to taste delicious and have nutritionally superior supplement facts. At Makers Nutrition, our flavor experts can help you select deep flavor profiles for your bodybuilding, weight loss or meal replacement powders. Of course, we offer a wide range of the popular flavors, but we also strongly encourage our clients to think about custom powder flavoring because the masking selections are 100% customized to your formula.

We have capabilities to manufacture a wide range of nutraceutical powder formulas such as WHEY PROTEIN, MASS GAINER, WEIGHT GAINER, PREWORKOUT & AMINO ACIDS etc. From sourcing each ingredient in your formula, to post filling inspection; we do it all at the best prices and the fastest lead times. We have the experience to help you formulate a new product for your target audience, or discuss with you how to properly scale your manufacturing. As your partner, it is our job for long-term powder manufacturing success.

LIQUID MANUFACTURING

We have capabilities to manufacture any type of nutraceutical liquid formula. From sourcing each ingredient in your formula, to post filling inspection; we do it all. At the best prices and the fastest lead times. We have the experience to help you formulate a new product for your target audience, or discuss with you how to properly scale your manufacturing. As your partner it is our job for long-term liquid manufacturing success. Since liquid is absorbed into the body quicker, it may be a good idea to put these essential ingredients in your supplements to take full advantage of their usage. Partnering with the right liquid manufacturer will allow for your private label liquid supplement to be made with the highest standards. That is something we can deliver.
